6 Dead in Irkutsk Car Crash

August 10, 2010

Six people died and three others were hospitalized after a large truck collided with a Toyota minivan in the Irkutsk region on Tuesday, RIA-Novosti reported.

Local traffic police blamed the truck's driver for the incident, saying he did not gave way to the minivan, which had the right of way.

The truck's driver was uninjured. The survivors included the Toyota's driver and two passengers.
