In Photos: Kherson Reels from Deadly Russian Shelling

January 30, 2023

At least three people were killed and 10 injured in Russian shelling that struck residential areas near the southern Ukrainian city of Kherson overnight. Ukrainian forces recaptured the city of Kherson in November, ending eight months of Russian occupation. But Russian forces continue to hold parts of the wider Kherson region, putting the city at risk of further attack. Photos from the ground show the aftermath of the latest deadly strikes:
