Internet Growth in BRIC

By The Moscow Times

September 01, 2010

Brazil, Russia, India, China and Indonesia will double their Internet users to 1.2 billion by 2015, fueling growth for media companies and phone carriers, Boston Consulting Group said in a report to be released Wednesday.

While mobile phones with Internet access will aid growth, personal computers will double in the five countries to more than 920 million, according to the report. ⊠
