Sitronics Q2 Loss Grows

By The Moscow Times

September 12, 2010

Sitronics, an electronics maker owned by billionaire Vladimir Yevtushenkov's Sistema, said Friday that its second-quarter loss widened to $30.4 million from $26.6 million a year earlier.

Sales rose to $268.1 million from $247.1 million a year earlier, the Moscow-based company said.
