The Moscow Times
30 YEARS
INDEPENDENT NEWS FROM RUSSIA

St. Pete 'Bomb Cat' Report

November 12, 2010

A St. Petersburg resident could face three years in prison on charges of filing a fraudulent terrorism report for claiming that a bomb was planted in her cat, Interfax reported Friday, citing a law enforcement source.

The unidentified woman was drunk when she placed a call to police early Friday, the report said. A bomb squad dispatched to her apartment found no explosives in the animal. ◙

(MT)

Original url: https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2010/11/12/st-pete-bomb-cat-report-a2942