

Satanist Link to Deaths

January 27, 2011

Teenage lovers who jumped off the roof of a building in Moscow region in January committed suicide because of abuse by unidentified satanists, the local branch of the Investigative Committee said on its web site Thursday.

The teens, whose names were withheld, mentioned the abuse in a mail exchange, now being analyzed by investigators, the report said. It remained unclear what sort of treatment the two 15-year-olds received or what prompted it.
