45\% of Voters Support Putin for President

January 19, 2012

Prime Minister Vladimir Putin currently has the support of $45 \%$ of the population in his effort to become president, according to the latest poll by the Public Opinion Fund.

The former president has gained 1 percent of support compared to the previous survey by the pollster, conducted Dec. 25 , and 4 percent since early November.

No other presidential candidate received the support of more than 11 percent of those polled. If Putin were to garner less than $50 \%$ of the vote, he would be forced into a runoff with the next-place finisher.
