

Rosneft Eyes Iraqi Oilfield

By The Moscow Times

August 02, 2012

Rosneft is engaged in negotiations with its strategic partner, ExxonMobil, on buying part or all of the U.S. company's stake in the West Qurna-1 project in Iraq, the Middle East Economic Survey said, citing several unspecified sources, Interfax reported Thursday.

Another Russian state oil company plans to win a section-development tender being held by the government of Kurdistan, the Middle East Economic Survey reported without naming the company.
