

No to Syria No-Fly Zone

August 19, 2012

The  Moscow Times

Russia rejects the idea of a no-fly zone over Syria, Sky News Arabia reported Saturday.

No member of the United Nations Security Council has formally proposed a no-fly zone, but Secretary of State Hillary Clinton said Aug. 11 that Washington and Turkey were considering one.

Russia's embassy in London accused police of not preventing an attack on its building by a group of activists protesting Moscow's support for Assad.
