

Volkswagen to Invest $1.25Bln in Russia

By The Moscow Times

August 28, 2012

The  Moscow Times

Germany's Volkswagen said on Wednesday it is aiming to invest a total of 1 billion euros ($1.25 billion) in Russia by 2018, initially expanding by building an engine plant in Kaluga.

(Reuters)

Related articles:

- Domestic Carmakers Benefit From Customs Union
- GM Expands in Russia as Western Europe Market Remains Weak
- Renault Reverses Itself in AvtoVAZ Relations

Original url:

<https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2012/08/28/volkswagen-to-invest-125bln-in-russia-a17361>