The Moscow Times
30 YEARS
INDEPENDENT NEWS FROM RUSSIA

Ministry Proposes $46Bln Bond

By The Moscow Times

September 17, 2012

The Economy Ministry has proposed that the government offer bonds worth 1.5 trillion rubles ($46 billion) to finance infrastructure projects, Vedomosti newspaper reported, citing Deputy Economic Minister Sergei Belyakov.

(MT)

Related articles:

- Putin Slams Officials Over Election Promises
- Putin Turns to Stalin for Modernization Ideas
- Skolkovo Construction as Challenging as Innovation

Original url: https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2012/09/17/ministry-proposes-46bln-bond-a17895