The Moscow Times
30 YEARS
INDEPENDENT NEWS FROM RUSSIA

Moody's Downgrades Bank St. Petersburg

By The Moscow Times

October 23, 2012

Moody's has changed its long-term outlook on Bank Saint-Petersburg from stable to negative on concerns about the risks associated with the ongoing decline of the bank's pre-provision profit and net interest margin, which undermines its ability to absorb potential losses, Interfax reported.

(MT)

Related articles:

- Moody's Mulls Rosneft and TNK-BP Downgrade
- Gref Chides Central Bank
- Bank Places $1Bln Bond

Original url:
https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2012/10/23/moodys-downgrades-bank-st-petersburg-a18842