

Uralkali to Spend Up to $1.6Bln on Buyback

By The Moscow Times

November 13, 2012

Uralkali decided to extend its buyback program in a move to cope with "speculative moods" affecting its shares, chief financial officer Viktor Belyakov told reporters, adding that the company would spend up to $1.6 billion on the program over the next 12 months.

(Reuters)

Related articles:

- Chinese Fund Could Get $3Bln Stake in Uralkali
- Uralkali to Cut Output
- Uralkali Settles Dispute

Original url:

https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2012/11/13/uralkali-to-spend-up-to-16bln-on-buyback-a19381