The Moscow Times
30 YEARS
INDEPENDENT NEWS FROM RUSSIA

Medvedev Jokes About Secret Alien Files

By The Moscow Times

December 09, 2012

"Men in Black" agents K and J may be about to recruit a new Russian assistant: Prime Minister Dmitry Medvedev.

Medvedev spoke about top-secret files on aliens that may have landed in Russia.

In footage recorded Friday after a television interview, the former president joked that each Russian leader gets two folders with information about extraterrestrials that visited our planet and stayed here.

Unseen in the footage, he is heard telling a Ren-TV journalist that he could not tell "how many of them are among us because it may cause panic." He said more details could be found in Barry Sonnenfeld's "Men in Black" films.

During his 2008-12 presidency, Medvedev showed a sense of humor slightly more subtle than that of his successor, Vladimir Putin, who has a knack for cunning quips.

Related articles:

- Medvedev Defends Foreign-Agent Law
- Lady Gaga Thanks Medvedev for Opposing Anti-Gay Laws
- Putin Rated 3rd Most Powerful Person by Forbes

Original url:
https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2012/12/09/medvedev-jokes-about-secret-alien-files-a20001