

50 Suffer Hypothermia, Frostbite in Cold Spell

By The Moscow Times

January 23, 2013

The  Moscow Times

One person died and over 50 people suffered hypothermia or frostbite in the past 24 hours due to the bitter cold, a news report said Thursday.

The death occurred in the Leningrad region from hypothermia, Interfax reported.

The number of cold-related injuries throughout Russia has climbed to 208 since sub-freezing temperatures set in, Interfax reported.

Temperatures are expected to remain at sub-freezing levels until late next week.

Related articles:

- Man Falls Off Train, Chases It 7 Kilometers to Survive Sub-Freezing Weather
- 5 Pedestrians Struck Within 10 Minutes Amid Heavy Snowfall
- Death Toll From Cold Keeps Rising

Original url:

<https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2013/01/23/50-suffer-hypothermia-frostbite-in-cold-spell-a20901>