

Police Officer Beaten Outside St. Basil's Cathedral

February 14, 2013

The  Moscow Times

A man "behaving suspiciously" outside St. Basil's Cathedral on Thursday responded to a police officer's request for identification by beating him with a baseball bat, the Interior Ministry said in comments carried by Interfax.

The man, "clutching a baseball bat" near the popular tourist attraction on Red Square around 1 p.m., rapped the approaching officer on the legs and was later detained. Mental health professionals were called to the scene. The officer received medical attention for his injuries.

(MT)

Related articles:

- Suicide Bomber Kills 4 Police Officers in Dagestan
- Police Rebranding Cost Budget \$37M, Deputy Says
- Police Detain Elderly Man Suspected of Dagestan Murders

Original url:

<https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2013/02/14/police-officer-beaten-outside-st-basils-cathedral-a21569>