The Moscow Times
30 YEARS
INDEPENDENT NEWS FROM RUSSIA

Today in History, March 3

By The Moscow Times

March 03, 2014

A painting by Boris Kustodiev showing the liberation of the peasants.

153 years ago today, on March 3, 1861, the Emancipation Manifesto abolishing serfdom in Russia was declared by Alexander II. It was his first and most important liberal reform.

Original url: https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2014/03/03/today-in-history-march-3-a32606