Video: Kazakh KHL Star Suspended After Solo Takedown of Opposing Team

August 09, 2016

Kazakh hockey star Damir Ryspayev has been ⊠indefinitely suspended from Russia's Kontinental Hockey League ⊠(KHL) after attempting to fight the entire lineup of an opposing team ⊠during a pre-season matchup on Tuesday.

Ryspayev's⊠ bold assault on the roster of the Kunlun Red Stars began just ⊠three minutes into the match. The brawl began with "a snide punch by ⊠Barys forward Ryspayev on Red Star's Tomas Marcinko," according to an ⊠official KHL statement announcing Ryspayev's suspension on Wednesday.

The⊠ Kazakh player's assault quickly spread from player to player until he ⊠ran out of targets on the ice. Ryspayev then charged the Red Stars' bench, ⊠jumping in to continue the fight single-handed against the remainder of ⊠the team.

The KHL statement noted “that Ryspayev has been a serial offender … in spite of previous disciplinary sanctions from the League and a stern warning issued to the player in January of this year.” He has been suspended indefinitely, pending further league investigation into his behavior.
