

Russia's VTB Bank Fined $5M for Illegal Trades

September 20, 2016

Maklay62 / Pixabay

The U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC) has fined Russia's VTB Bank $5 million after accusing the company of illegal trading.

The St.⊠Petersburg-based VTB
Bank⊠is reported to have made more than a hundred fictitious block trades⊠with its subsidiary, the British-incorporated VTB Capital, between⊠December 2010 and June 2013.

The transactions, which were made via the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, had an estimated worth worth $\simes 6 \$36 billion, the CFTC reported.

The trades allowed VTB⊠ Bank to pass its⊠cross-currency risks to VTB Capital at better⊠rates than it could secured⊠from outside companies.

"These block trades were fictitious sales, which caused prices to be reported or recorded by the CME (Chicago Mercantile Exchange) that were not true and bona fide prices, in violation of the Commodities Exchange Act (CEA)," the CFTC said in a statement.

The companies are now⊠also barred from making privately-negotiated⊠futures, options or combination trades⊠with each another for⊠the next two years, the order said.

Both VTB Bank⊠and VTB Capital cooperated with the CFTC in the case. The companies have neither confirmed nor⊠den ied the CFTC's⊠findings.

Original url:

https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2016/09/20/russias-vtb-bank-fined-5m-for-illegal-trades-a55398