

Police Search Moscow After Attack on National Guardsmen

December 30, 2016

Yuri Smityuk / TASS

Police are searching Moscow's Novomoskovsky district for a group of five to seven unidentified men who attacked a patrol of Russian national guardsmen on Thursday night, killing one and wounding another.

A source in law enforcement told the RIA Novosti news service that the attackers also managed to get away with two automatic rifles and a pistol, all with full ammunition.

Original url:

<https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2016/12/30/police-search-in-moscow-after-attack-on-national-guardsmen-a56705>