

Moscow's Annual Hot Water Switch-Off to Begin May 10

April 25, 2017

Tookapic / Pixabay

Moscow's annual hot water switch-off is set to hit the capital on May 10, local authorities have announced.

The dreaded annual rite of passage will see more than 33,000 apartment blocks lose their hot water for a ten-day stretch so that maintenance can take place.

Different neighborhoods will see their water turned off at different times between May and August 25, when the work is set to end.

Related article: Moscow Lifhack: How to Find Out When Your House Won't Have Hot Water

Original url:

<https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2017/04/25/moscows-annual-hot-water-switch-off-to-begin-may-10-a57811>