

This Is What a Plane Crashing Into a Van in Chechnya Looks Like

August 08, 2017

The  Moscow Times

Wikicommons

The pilot of a light airplane suffered minor injuries after he crashed into a car during take-off from a road in the North Caucasus republic of Chechnya, the state-run TASS news agency reported on Tuesday.

According to the acting head of Chechnya's State Traffic Safety Inspectorate, Aslambek Nazirov, the collision occurred on Monday morning.

Nazirov said the pilot had made "miscalculations of force" during take-off and "crashed into a car parked on the roadside."

"The driver was not in the car at the time of the accident," he added.

The TJournal news outlet cited regional emergency services as saying the pilot did not have permission to fly the plane.

Original url: <https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2017/08/08/planecrash-in-chechnya-a58604>