

Plane Crashes During Takeoff in Northern Russia, Killing 4

December 19, 2017

Anton Taibarei / nao24.ru

At least four people died on Tuesday after a plane crashed during takeoff from an airport in northern Russia.

The An-2 airplane crashed in the town of Naryan-Mar, north of the Arctic Circle, the state-run TASS news agency reported.

Thirteen people, including children, were reportedly on the flight. The survivors were hospitalized with injuries, TASS reported.

Two women and a child were among the victims, the RBC business portal cited a regional spokesperson as saying.

Original url:

<https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2017/12/19/plane-crashes-on-take-off-in-russias-far-north-killing-2-a59990>