

Russia Unveils New 100-Ruble Bill Before FIFA World Cup

May 22, 2018

Mikhail Japaridze / TASS

Russia's Central Bank has unveiled new 100-ruble ($1.63) bills to commemorate the upcoming FIFA World Cup.

The front side of the banknote depicts a boy admiring the legendary Soviet goalkeeper Lev Yashin diving for the ball. A soccer ball with an embossed map of Russia adorns the back side of the blue-and-green technicolor bill.

Related article: Russia Unveils QR-Coded 200, 2,000 Ruble Bills

A slew of soccer-themed security features double as easter eggs, including holographic images that change colors when brought under a UV light or seen under different angles; microimages of fans; and a microtext of the World Cup host cities.

The features are all listed in the QR code on the bottom right corner of the polymer banknote.

A total of 20 million commemorative bills will enter circulation before the start of the tournament next month, Russia's Central Bank has said.

Original url:

<https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2018/05/22/russia-unveils-new-100-ruble-bill-before-fifa-world-cup-a61537>