

Century-Old Moscow Tool Factory Opens its Doors, In Photos

October 05, 2018

First opened in 1919, the Moscow Tool Factory is almost 100 years old. Founded with the help of emigres who returned to Russia from New York after the February Revolution, it became the first factory in the country dedicated solely to the production of tools.

We take a closer look at how the enterprise has adapted to the 21st century.
