

Moscow's 'Gloomiest Building' Demolished, 26 Years After Being Abandoned

November 22, 2018

On Nov. 21, the Khovrino hospital complex in northern Moscow was finally demolished. Construction of the brutalist building was abandoned in 1992, turning the complex into one of Moscow's eeriest buildings.

Here is a look at its last days.

Original url:

<https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2018/11/22/moscows-gloomiest-building-demolished-26-years-after-being-abandoned-a63574>