ArtFlection

One of the best holiday fairs, ArtFlection brings together the handmade works of more than 120 artisans from all over Russia and a few close neighbors. Here you'll find one-of-a-kind gifts: ceramics, home décor items, jewelry, toys, designer clothes and much more. It runs both weekend days from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Moscow House of Artists

Dec. 5 - 31

If you don't know about the Moscow House of Artists, you should: it is a small warren of little stands selling everything from tree ornaments to leather goods to handmade wood carvings and even knives, tea, and perfumes. It's an excellent place to stop in for your holiday shopping, although you might walk out with things for yourself, like warm tights, woolen scarves, and a brightly colored sweater. It's open from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. on weekends, and then until 7 p.m. on Saturday and 6 p.m. on Sunday. Conveniently located close to bars and cafes for a restorative cup or glass apres shopping.

11 Kuznetsky Most. Metro Kuznetsky Most.

Bazaar From the Heart

Dec. 9

On Sunday one of Moscow's favorite fairs will take place in the heart of the capital, a block from Red Square. This is the Dushevny Bazaar (Bazaar From the Heart), where dozens and dozens of charities sell mountains of wonderful gifts and treats – and all the proceeds go to support their causes. In addition to stands selling wonderful handmade and factory-produced items – like terrific t-shirts – there are food stalls, musicians, and all kinds of entertainers – sometimes even dogs. Don't miss it! From 11 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Gostiny Dvor. 4 Ulitsa Ilyinka. Metro Okhotny Ryad, Kitai-gorod.

Russian House of Artists

Dec. 7 – 23

If you plan on skating at Gorky Park or want to catch a show at the New Tretyakov Gallery, be sure to stop into the House of Artists — the entrance on the “short end” of the New Tretyakov building — for their 20th annual Holiday Bazaar. More than 100 members of the Artist's Union and others fill the second floor with artistic and artisanal objects and gifts: hand-carved tree ornaments, embroidered wool gloves, landscape paintings, silks from Tajikistan, designer clothes and lots of fun vintage goodies, like trays and trays of Soviet glass tree ornaments. Open from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. every day.

10 Ulitsa Kymysky Val. Metro Oktyabrskaya, Park Kultury.
