

Vintage Tram Cars Parade Down Moscow's Streets

April 22, 2019

Vintage tram cars paraded down Moscow's streets on Saturday to mark the 120-year anniversary of the tram service's opening. The event, which takes place each spring, reached record attendance with more than 250,000 spectators, the local mos.ru news website reported. Here's a look at the parade's display of historic, Soviet-era models and the innovative trams of today:
