The Moscow Times
30 YEARS
INDEPENDENT NEWS FROM RUSSIA

Russia Says It Repelled an Attack on Its Main Syrian Air Base – Reports

By Reuters

May 20, 2019

syria.mil.ru

Russia's Defense Ministry said on Monday that it had repelled a drone and missile attack on its main air base in Syria over the weekend and accused former Nusra Front militants of being behind the assault, the state-run RIA news agency reported.

Related article: Fewer Than Half of Russians Support Syria Campaign, Poll Says

RIA cited the ministry as saying it had shot down six missiles fired at the Hmeymim air base in Syria's Latakia Province.

Original url:
https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2019/05/20/russia-says-it-repelled-an-attack-on-its-main-syrian-air-base-ria-a65654