The Moscow Times
30 YEARS
INDEPENDENT NEWS FROM RUSSIA

Russian Buddhists Celebrate Kalachakra Religious Festival in Siberia

July 12, 2019

Thousands of Buddhist pilgrims are travelling to Russia's republic of Buryatia for the Kalachakra festival, celebrating world peace and harmony.

An estimated 1 million Buddhists live in Russia, many in the republics of Kalmykia, Tuva and Buryatia — where the religion is traditionally practiced.

Original url:
https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2019/07/12/russian-buddhists-celebrate-kalachakra-religious-festival-in-siberia-a66400