Russia Prepares for a Surge in Coronavirus Cases

From Russia With News (Discontinued)

March 19, 2020

Alexander Avilov / Moskva News Agency

This week on the program we look at how Russia is dealing with the coronavirus, with experts on the line to take us through the latest developments and assess how Russia's health system and economy will cope with the pandemic.

— Moscow Times reporter Evan Gershkovich joins us to go over the steps Russia has taken in recent days.

— We discuss concerns over the capacity and quality of Russia's hospitals and medical facilities to deal with the coronavirus with Judy Twigg, a professor at Virginia Commonwealth University and Senior Associate and Center for Strategic and International Studies.

— And finally, ING's Chief Russia Economist Dmitry Dolgin explains how the massive global economic disruption caused by the coronavirus will affect Russia.
