Own Coal Goal: Phasing Out the Fossil Fuel in Russia. An Interview With Anna Korppoo

Eurasian Climate Brief

November 01, 2021

In this episode, we focus on Russia's current reliance on coal, less than a day after G20 countries failed to reach an agreement to phase out the fuel. Angelina Davydova and Boris Schneider talk to Russian climate policy expert Anna Korppoo, a research professor at Norway's Fridtjof Nansen Institute.
