

From Deadly Mining Disaster to Surging Caviar Prices: Russia's November, in Photos

November 30, 2021

For Russia, November 2021 was a grim month. Prosecutors launched an effort to close down Memorial, Russia's top human rights organization. In Siberia's coal-mining Kemerovo region, 46 miners and five rescuers died after a methane gas explosion at the Listvyazhnaya coal. Meanwhile, as Russians started to stock up ahead of the New Year holidays, prices for red roe, a traditional New Year's delicacy, hit their highest price since President Vladimir Putin came to power in 2000. Here is a look at the highlights of Russia's November in pictures:

Taking a selfie at the observation point at Vorobyovy Gory (Sparrow Hills) in front of the skyscrapers of Moscow City on Nov. 26. Alexander Nemenov / AFP

Original url:

<https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2021/11/30/from-deadly-mining-disaster-to-record-caviar-prices-russias-november-in-photos-a75700>