The Moscow Times
30 YEARS
INDEPENDENT NEWS FROM RUSSIA

In Photos: Russian Athletes Compete in Beijing Winter Games

February 08, 2022

Russia has sent 212 of its athletes to the Beijing Winter Olympics, where they are competing under the Russian Olympic Committee banner due to past doping violations. After less than a week of the competition, the ROC team is currently in the lead with nine medals overall. Russian athletes have won gold medals in figure skating and cross-country skiing as well as bronze and silver medals in the biathlon, ski jumping, snowboarding and freestyle skiing. Here's a look at the athletes in action so far:

Russia's Kamila Valieva competes in the women's single skating short program during the figure skating team event. Anne-Christine Poujoulat / AFP

Original url:
https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2022/02/08/in-photos-russian-athletes-compete-in-beijing-winter-games-a76298