In Photos: Life Goes on in Moscow Amid Mobilization, Martial Law

October 21, 2022

Though Russia's "partial" mobilization is still underway in most regions — and the latest increase of security preparedness levels signals that the country may be edging closer to living under martial law — life in the capital Moscow seems to go on as normal. Here is a closer look at how Muscovites are spending their days amid the darkening shadow of the war in Ukraine:
