

In Photos: Memorials to Moscow Concert Victims Appear Across Russia

March 25, 2024

At least 137 people were killed and dozens more were injured Friday night after camouflaged gunmen opened fire at a major concert hall near Moscow and set fire to the building. The attack, which was claimed by the Islamic State jihadist group, has sent shockwaves across Russia and sparked an outpouring of grief across the country. Here's a look at some of the makeshift memorials appearing in cities across Russia:
