

Moscow Region Man Killed in Ukrainian Drone Attack

October 08, 2026

Vasily Kuzmichenok / Moskva News Agency

A 57-year-old man was killed in the Moscow region town of Podolsk in a late afternoon Ukrainian drone attack, Moscow region Governor Andrei Vorobyov said Thursday.

The fatal incident occurred in the Klimovsk neighborhood of Podolsk some 40 kilometers (25 miles) south of Moscow.

A 37-year-old woman also sustained injuries during the attack.

Vorobyov said three vehicles also caught fire before firefighters extinguished the blaze, and window glass was shattered in a nearby residential apartment building.

Civil aviation authorities temporarily suspended arrivals and departures at Domodedovo, Vnukovo and Zhukovsky airports to ensure flight safety during the air raid alert.

In western Siberia's Omsk region, Governor Vitaly Hotsenko said Ukrainian drones attacked a "northern industrial hub" after eyewitness reports indicated that Russia's largest oil refinery was targeted.

Original url:

<https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2026/10/08/moscow-region-man-killed-in-ukrainian-drone-attack-a93924>